Bandages Give Reporters Bad Moments

CHICAGO, June 1.—(UP)—Secretary of Labor James J. Davis caused newspaper reporters here some bad moments but he added to their knowledge of medical terminology.

The secretary hopped of a train, rushed to a hospital and came out an hour later with his face swathed in bandages. He rushed to the station to board another train for Mooseheart, Ill., where he will deliver a commencement address today.

Newspapermen, hot in pursuit, finally reached Davis and asked him what the trouble was.

"Hordolium zeissianum," promptly replied the labor secretary. He just had time to spell it before the train pulled out.

Feverish consultation of medical dictionaries informed the reporters that Davis had been troubled with a sty or one eye.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—(UP)—With both houses recessed for the week end, farm bill conferees went to work today to complete a satisfactory compromise, clearing the way for early adoption of the legislation so congress may adjourn until fall.

The dark legislative outlook cleared perceptibly when President Hoover announced at the white house late yesterday he would agree to adjournment if the farm bill is completed and a date set for a senate vote on the tariff bill. The leaders plan to fix November 3 as the date for the tariff vote. They spurred the farm conferees to stay away from the seashore this warm Saturday so a farm bill agreement may be made ready for senate action early next week.

The white house statement did not dissuade the small Republican group in the senate which started a fight several days ago to make congress stay and finish the tariff bill. Senator Borah, Idaho, and Senator Jones, Washington, assistant Republican leader, still favors this course. They are backed by perhaps ten midwestern senators and they may yet cause considerable embarrassment to the plan.

The farm conferees may complete their agreement late today. And understanding has been reached that the debtenture provision is to be eliminated. Meanwhile the committees representing the house and senate are perfecting the rest of the bill. Such an agreement is certain to be ratified in the house and it will be brought to the senate with the warning: "Take this or get nothing." Although not a single vote is reported to have been changed since the senate adopted the debtenture feature three weeks ago 47 to 44, the leaders believe the warning may have its desired effect.

When Mr. Hoover signs the bill, as he is almost certain to do if it does not contain the debtenture provision, most of the reasons for congress remaining through the summer then will be obviated.

LONDON, June 1.—(UP)—The leaders of the three principal British political parties began conferences with their advisers today to determine their next moves in the situation that resulted from labor's failure to gain a working majority in the next parliament.

With the Laborites holding more seats than any other single party, Ramsay MacDonald, their leader, was waiting at his Hampstead home, apparently ready to form the second labor government if he should be summoned.

MacDonald realized, however, that labor's lack of a majority meant that he was virtually powerless in the face of a possible combination of Conservatives and Liberals.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin was receiving important Conservatives today. He will continue the conferences until Monday, discussing with them the various possibilities before him as leader of the second strongest party, which now forms the government.

David Lloyd George, the Liberal leader who found himself holding the balance of power in the House of Commons as a result of the election, went to court where he will deliberate on what use he will make of his strength.

Lloyd George also was expected to study the question of "triangular fights" in the next general election, which many here believe was inevitable within six months. Lloyd George attributed the failure of the Liberals to gain their expected seats to the triangular fights between Liberals, Conservatives

CHICAGO, June 1.—(UP)—A dramatic suicide before a speeding Northwestern passenger train today ended the drunken rampage of Ferdinand Preuss, who killed two policemen and a merchant and severely wounded three other persons late yesterday while defending himself against capture in his west side tenement.

After eluding one of the most intensive manhunts ever organized in the metropolitan area—50 squads of detectives and policemen and a incessant long-bonging of the public alarm system—the 38 year old war veteran today hurled himself before a westbound Freepoint train which cut off his head and both arms.

Where Preuss spent the night after his marksmanship had prevailed against the combined efforts of eight detective squads which attempted to capture him in his home yesterday probably never will be known.

While the law re-enforced its numbers before his home, Preuss continued firing through the front and side windows with a pump shotgun until he had wiped out an entire squad. Then he fled down an alley and was swallowed up by the teeming tenement district which had been the scene of his drunken rampage.

Then was organized a manhunt of unprecedented proportions. It was joined by every policeman who could be spared from regular patrol duty and was led by Deputy Police Commissioner

TORRENTIAL RAINS continued throughout the southwest today, swelling the flood water which have caused hundreds of thousands of dollars damage during the past five days. There has been no loss of life in the floods residents of the affected districts receiving warnings of the advancing waters in time to evacuate their homes.

The monstrous down-pour of rain has continued for five days, swelling creeks throughout Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas into raging rivers. Buffalo Bayou, ordinarily a sluggish little stream at Houston, Tex., has become a threatening torrent, rising to a height of 43 feet above normal stage.

All inhabitants of the sparsely settled lowlands were warned of danger hours before the high waters engulfed their homes.

Throughout Kansas and Oklahoma farm work has been delayed and safety of crops depends on cessation of the rains, which in many sections have been nearly three inches since Memorial day.

Many small Texas villages were isolated or in immediate danger as water swept through lower sections. Refugees trekked to higher land, carrying what few provisions they could.

Waters from the smaller creeks which empty into Buffalo Bayou were added to by flooding tributaries from the north and at junction points with smaller streams the bayou was as much as a mile wide.

Highways into Houston were under water and many communication lines had been carried away. Small bridges along the bayou were swept away, along with cottages from the banks of the stream.

DETROIT, June 1.—(UP)—Henry Ford has completed a $20,000,000 deal with Soviet Russia. Far more important than the initial monetary considerations is the significance attached in industrial quarters to the agreement as it concerns Ford's battle on a world wide front with General Motors.

The contract running for nine years calls for the purchase of 300,000,000 worth of Ford products within four years. The Ford company is to provide technical advice in erection of a Russian factory, but Ford probably will have a part in distribution also. Based on that assumption, the arrangement is even more to its interest.

With its far flung overseas organization, General Motors still has the advantage over Ford in the export field, but the Soviet agreement lessens its domination.

General Motors is the fifth industrial enterprise in Europe, and its recent acquisitions left little to fight over there in the automotive "bide." Ford apparently has seen little wisdom in an immediate European war of attrition, but has scored a big opening in a new field for a big distribution, a field which has unlimited possibilities.

At the end of the nine year contract which provides for creation of a Ford factory at PARIS, June 1.—(UP)—The reparations problem has been settled, Thomas W. Lamont, American banker, announced today that the experts of seven nations, after struggling for almost four months with the complicated problem of how much Germany shall pay for the world war, had at last reached a final agreement.

Germany has settled, in effect, for $8,500,000,000 cash. That is, if she paid the entire sum today, she would turn over that amount in gold.

The money will be paid on the installment plan, however, and within the next 59 years Germany will pay an average of about $438,000,000 annually. That is, the Allies will actually get about $28,000,000,000 interest being figured at 5 per cent.

The knotty problems with which the experts struggled for so long were finally settled by concessions on all sides. The only problem not settled by the agreement was Belgium's claim for compensation on account of the deflation of her currency during the German war time occupation. The question was left for the two governments to settle between themselves.

Thus the work of the conference, under the chairmanship of Owen D. Young, American financial genius, will have been 100 per cent successful if Emile Francqui, the Belgian delegate to the conference, permits the question of the Belgian marks settlement to be negotiated between Brussels and Berlin.

The reparations staff worked all day on the final report of the conference, hoping to have the final draft completed by tonight or tomorrow morning. The delegates would have two days to study it, with the possibility of a ceremonial signing on Tuesday or Wednesday, after the customary final touches have been applied.

The general settlement was reached on the basis of a compromise plan worked out by Young, which will go into effect on September 1 next and run until March 31, 1936, which is 36 years and seven months. The payments for the final 23 years will be much less, and will correspond roughly to what the allies owe the United States.

Deliveries in kind for the first year will be 700,000,000 marks ($155,749,000), declining yearly in value for ten years, when they will cease entirely.

BOOZE RACKETEER SOUGHT IN KILLING

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—(UP)—Jimmy Murphy, 22, asserted liquor racketeer, was sought by police today for the killing of his friend, Eddie Bennett, 34, in a downtown hotel late yesterday.

According to witnesses, Murphy and Bennett were intoxicated. Murphy, brandishing a gun, declared: "I feel like shooting somebody."

"Why not shoot me?" asked Bennett drunkenly.

"That's a good idea," Murphy is said to have replied, shooting him in the head and abdomen.

Colorado Peanut Pusher Entertains Visiting Shriners

COLORADO SPRINGS, June 1.—(UP)—Shriners from Kansas, Pennsylvania and Maine, en route to California for their convention, read in the papers yesterday morning about the heat wave in their respective native haunts and then hurried up the hill to see Bill Williams, of Texas, engaged in a peanut job of pushing his nose. There were over 500 of the Shriners and the snowball battles they put on during the intermissions were something they can write home about.

Williams was in a mood to entertain his visitors but it's not much fun sweeping a path through snow, uphill, and then rolling a peanut up the trail with your nose. So Bill called it a day at 2:30 p.m. when the second snowstorm of the day obliterated his trail.

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—(UP)—Only the ratification of stockholders was needed today to complete the merger of Maddux Air Lines with the Transcontinental Air Transport, which would create the largest air transportation hookup in the country.

The Maddux lines operates to San Francisco, San Diego and Phoenix. It was announced that Grand Central Airport, Glendale, will be the local field for both units of the merged companies. Alameda airport will be the San Francisco terminal.

NATIONAL PREPS IN BIG CHICAGO MEET

CHICAGO, June 1.—Those high school track and field men, who are accustomed to laboring without much recognition outside their immediate neighborhoods, had their training nationally today as the University of Chicago's twenty-fifth American prep meet reached the finals.

Approximately 900 athletes have come from 30 states in an attempt to win national honors. In the preliminary heats yesterday, they displayed enough ability to warrant the belief that some records will be broken today.

Three dash men turned the 100 yards in 9.9 seconds in qualifying heats, and W. Rouleux, Muncie, Ind., star did it despite a nose too good start. Then he ran the 220 yard dash in 22.4 seconds. The other 9.9 men were P. Swift, Spokane, Wash., and R. Metcalfe, Tilden high, Chicago.

Fort Collins, Colo., and Froebel of Gary, Ind., were favored to win team honors. The Colorado school won last year and has three victories in the past five years.

Three Hurt When Auto Crashes Into Truck Train

CONDITION OF MAN, GIRL IS HELD SERIOUS

Three persons were badly injured and two of them were in a critical condition today as a result of a collision on Lincoln boulevard about three miles east of Cypress at 1 o'clock this morning, when a sedan crashed into the rear of a truck and trailer outfit.

The victims were Helen Gorby, 16, H. C. Gorby and Mrs. H. C. Gorby. Two sons of the Gorbys, Harry and Gerald, who were riding in the back seat with their sister, Helen, escaped injury. The daughter was reported in a semi-conscious condition at the Anaheim sanitarium this morning, suffering from a skull fracture and abrasions, while the father, who was not thought to be seriously hurt following the accident last night, was reported this morning confined to the family home 1840 East Tenth street, Long Beach, unable to move hand or foot. Mrs. Gorby is a patient in the Orange County hospital suffering from cuts, bruises, a fractured left wrist and shock.

The accident happened, according to the report filed by Special Deputy Lloyd P. Fuller and Tom Scudder, when Gorby, who was driving the car as the family was returning to Long Beach, failed to see the truck outfit ahead of him and crashed into it. The accident was witnessed by D. L. Premo, 537 East Fifteenth street, Long Beach, and Mae Henning, 2520 Corinthian drive, Long Beach, who were following the Gorby car on a motorcycle.

The Gorby machine was almost totally wrecked as a result of the collision with the trailer, which was loaded with baled straw. It was in charge of Leon Kelly. The outfit is owned by Stoddart brothers.

The accident victims were taken to hospitals by passing motorists.

SELF LIGHTING CIGARET

You don't have to carry matches, or even a pocket lighter for this cigarette, recently introduced in Los Angeles. Just scratch it on the back of the box and it's lit. Pretty Dorothy Collier is shown with the new fangled cigarette which is tipped with a substance that lights like a match.

DRUNK CRAZED KILLER DIVES UNDER TRAIN

John Stege himself. Most of those who took part in the search were friends of Sgt. John Lee Conley, the 42 year old detective bureau squad leader who was first to fall before Preuss' pump gun.

The row of the Northwestern train which left the West Madison street station in Chicago at 3:28 a. m., today picked up the body of Preuss after their train had

Preuss was not armed. The pump gun, with which he had spread a ring of death around his west side basement apartment, had been left behind.

Police, who went out to claim the body, said they believed Preuss had wandered about aimlessly all night and that when the passing hours brought him sobriety and a realization of the fearful consequences of his spree he decided to take his own life.

"I'm glad it happened that way," Mrs. Preuss said her husband had been drinking heavily for three weeks before he came home at 10 a. m., yesterday and began abusing her. In the afternoon he took out his shotgun and threatened to kill his wife. Her screams as she ran into another apartment led neighbors to call police.

Sgt. Conley's squad was first to report at the scene of the disturbance. The house was quiet then. It looked like just another "drunk call," Conley and Police man Herbert Hagberg peered through a side window, shading their eyes with their hands.

From within and without warning came the roar of the pump gun. Conley whirled crazily, took several quick steps away from the house and fell dead with a great hole in his chest.

Suddenly the pump gun roared again and Hagberg spun around, his hands covering his face, half of which had been torn away by the shot.

One bystander, John Chorzak, was killed, and two others, Frank Vodka and Gus Karos, were wounded.

Policeman Joseph J. Murphy also fell with a severe body wound as he attempted to return the madman's fire from the squad car in which he had brought the first detectives to the scene.

Women who peered out from behind their drawn blinds in surrounding apartments said they saw Preuss leave from the rear of the house. He walked around to the side, looked first at Conley's body and then at Hagberg's, cursing violently.

Then suddenly he turned and ran into an alley.

That was the last anyone saw of Ferdinand Preuss until the engineer of the Northwestern railroad train today pulled up with a start at the sight of a man putting his head down on the tracks directly in front of the locomotive.

Funeral services for Conrad Oertly, 70, of Garden Grove, who died yesterday following an accident in which he was struck by a large timber, will be held at 2 p. m. Monday from the Baptist church at Garden Grove. It was announced today. The funeral will be in charge of Smith and Tut-hill, of Santa Ana, funeral directors. Interment will be at the Fairhaven cemetery.

The Rev. H. E. Hinkley, pastor of the Garden Grove Baptist church, will officiate at the services. Oertly is survived by Mrs. Elsie Oertly, widow; Mrs. J. G. Allen, daughter; St. C. Oertly, son of Garden Grove; and George W. Oertly, son, of Long Beach. The deceased had been a resident of Garden Grove for 23 years.

Several days ago the deceased was struck by a falling timber while working on a building at Garden Grove. An inquest was held today at the Smith and Tut-hill funeral parlors here.

FAITHFUL FIRE FIGHTER ENDS LONG SERVICE

City and fire department officials and the personnel of the three fire companies in Santa Ana gathered last night at headquarters company on Cypress street to do honor to a loyal and efficient fire fighter. When "Ike" Fields went off duty at 5:30 o'clock last night he had completed 40 years' service to the city of Santa Ana.

Fields was the honor guest at the affair which started off with a chicken dinner with all the trimmings that had been prepared in the station kitchen by Theodore Lucy and his assistants, W. D. Wilson, Henry Reed and Dwight Miller, all members of the department, and wound up with the presentation of a gold fire badge to the man just finishing his long span of service. Talks expressing the appreciation and esteem in which the honor guest is held by the citizenship of the city and by his fellow workers were given.

Chief John Luxembourg presided at the affair and added an interesting touch to the farewell dinner by introducing the personnel of the department individually, telling the length of service of each man and contrasting the present equipment of the company with that of the early days. R. R. Raymond, president of the Firemen's association, also spoke for the department, paying tribute to the man who was closing a long career of loyal service and asserting that the men of the department were proud of the work and record of their dean, "Ike."

Short talks were made by W. G. Knox, city manager; Homer Chaney, city councilman. Presentation of the badge, which was a life-member token with the 40 inset with rubies, was made by City Councilman J. L. McBride. In the presentation McBride averred that "Ike" Fields was always faithful, always willing to do his best at any task, could be depended on to deliver the goods and that the people of the city of Santa Ana through the council expressed their esteem and appreciation of his services in the gold and ruby badge.

In his response Fields declared that he wanted to always be regarded as a member of the organization and that his services would always be at the disposal of the department or the citizens in every possible way. He asserted that he had always tried to do his full duty as a fireman and as a man. In reminiscing he told of the days of his first connection with the fire fighters as a volunteer in the times when the only equipment was two tanks mounted on wheels that the volunteers dragged to the scene of a blaze, from which water that was carried to the tanks by a bucket brigade was pumped on the blaze through hose borrowed from a neighbor, by the efforts of a crew of six men who worked the pump like a hand car is operated.

Fields also told of the location of the first fire hall over a saloon at the corner of Fourth and Broadway, where the volunteers met once a month.

"The only pay we received," he said, "was in the fact that we were not required to pay poll tax, which amounted to $2 per year. But we paid 10 cents a month dues, so we didn't have much left at the end of the year."

Fire headquarters were later moved to an old church that stood where the post office is now at Third and Sycamore. From there the quarters were moved, church and all, to the site at Fifth and Sycamore now occupied by the city library. The first uniforms consisted of bright red shirts, red ties and red belts, Fields recalled.

Fields, who has been driver of the squad car, which carries gas masks, pulmotor, extra hose and other articles that might be required, and that answers all alarms, made his last run to a fire in the west part of town last week. During the course of the evening the team of gray horses that Fields owned and used in the operation of a transfer business some 30 years ago and that he used to pull fire apparatus to fires came in for considerable comment.

Attending the farewell dinner were W. G. Knox, W. J. Kelly, Homer Chaney, J. L. McBride, Al Grunning, T. D. Miller, John Garthe, R. R. Raymond, Boyd H. Sleeper, E. R. Skaggs, W. J. Jenkins, P. T. Brightwell, Theodore Lucy, Homer J. McDonald, J. J. Hanson, J. C. Johnson, Henry Reed, P. Jaques, Ben G. Patton, H. M. Lee, John T. Lacy, assistant chief; Isaac Fields, John C. Ward, W. D. Willson, W. C. Fox, W. R. Browne, Sid Kimball, M. C. Moore, H. J. Near and John Luxembourg, chief.

OFFICER ELECTED BY SHOOTING CLUB

Officers were elected at the first business meeting of the newly organized Santa Ana Skeet club at the Philley auto sales agency on East Fifth street last night.

Members chosen to head the new gun club are Ernest Wimbler, president; A. L. Thirty-five wing shot enthusiasts are now on the roster of the club, which was promoted by Steward and Barnhill, and other persons desiring membership should apply at once to any of the officers, Steward said today.

Arrangements were made at the session last night to accommodate shooters who will be unable to avail themselves of the regular time set aside for shoots during the week, and these members will be given an opportunity to break the "birds" Sundays. This arrangement permits all members to have at least one period at the grounds every week.

Pointing out that it is the policy of the league to have public discussion of both sides of any question, the committee chairman said that the meeting Thursday night would be open to all men and women interested in hearing discussions on the flood control project.

TY MANAGER SUGGESTS USE OF INHALATOR

Announcement was made by City manager W. G. Knox last night at dinner of the Santa Ana Fire department in honor of Isaac Fields at a demonstration of the latest use of inhalator for use in rescue work would be made before the city council Monday and that he would recommend to that body the purchase of such equipment for use by trained members of the fire department.

The announcement was made following a report made by T. D. Miller, a member of the department, who told of the training he had taken recently with the rescue squad of the Los Angeles department. Miller said the squad had been very successful in life saving cases and had been handled while he was training with the squad. Most of the men are in new born baby cases, he asserted, and said they were very successful in saving them. He also told of one case where the squad worked 224 hours to save a baby pneumonia case in a Los Angeles hospital where the child had not lived two hours. The rescue apparatus was heartily recommended by Chief Luxem-burger, who has been urging its adoption for several years, and he said physicians of the city had been suggesting the purchase of such equipment. The rescue squad idea was endorsed by Councilman Homer Chaney.

Long Beach, Calif.
Editor Register: It was my very great pleasure to be in your city May 30th. My husband had important business at the "Builders' Exchange," and said if I cared to shop or windowshop, he would meet me at Fourth and Sycamore. While waiting there I conversed with a very charming lady who was selling poppies. The thought came to me, why not help, so I introduced myself and met Mrs. Reeves, and asked if I might help. She readily consented, and I spent a very happy hour and a half selling. I never met more responsive people in my life than those to whom I sold. Only a very few did not meet me with a smile—they did not buy in the spirit of making a sacrifice, but in a spirit of "We owe it to them." I have done much for our dear boys during the war, and I put on a pageant (written by Mrs. Broxholme) under the auspices of the Red Cross and helped to buy an ambulance. I have never turned down one of them who was selling magazines or trinkets, and could not stand on a corner and turn down an opportunity to help. I made sales almost continually, also sold one to my husband who had a Long Beach supply. I will keep this one poppy as a reminder of the day, and I want to thank each purchaser and compliment them on their attitude. Would like to have Mrs. Reeves' address, as I want to thank her by letter for the opportunity she gave me. Sincerely,
MRS. LOUIS FLECKENSTEIN.

STOCKHOLDERS' REPORTS SHOW STATUS OF INN

Stockholders of St. Ann's, Incorporated, owner of St. Ann's Inn, enjoyed a turkey dinner at the inn last night as an incident of an adjourned annual meeting of the stockholders.

Reports were submitted revealing the status of the corporation and recommendations made for possible execution later, the recommendations concerning future operations of the enterprise. As some of the details have not been completed, plans for the future were not disclosed for publication.

It was recalled at the meeting that public spirited citizens organized the corporation for the purpose of providing Santa Ana with hotel accommodations that were sorely needed at the time. The movement was started in 1918 and building plans were delayed when the United States entered the World war, a situation that added to the cost of construction when the hotel was finally erected. As an asset to Santa Ana the inn has been worth even more than it has cost those who invested in the enterprise in a spirit of city pride, and one of the stockholders said that maintenance of the hotel was worth more to the city than the establishment of a factory here by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company.

Herbert Rankin was chairman of the meeting last night. The present board of directors was continued for another year. They are A. J. Crookshank, George Shattuck, H. J. Forgy, John Cubbon and O. L. Halsell, the latter being appointed recently to succeed the late W. A. Huff.

MUSIC PROGRAM SCHEDULED FOR TUESDAY NIGHT

A thoroughly interesting musical program will be presented free to the public Tuesday evening, June 4, in Yost Spurgeon theater by advanced pupils of Santa Ana Conservatory of Music.

This occasion also marks the annual spring presentation of grade certificates to advanced students of the conservatory. Approximately 60 certificates will be awarded at this time.

Various departments of the local institution, of which D. C. Clanton is director, will be well represented on an unusually novel program, with piano, violin and wind instrument solo and ensemble numbers effectively contrasted.

Santa Ana Junior band, a new organization composed of 30 members, recently founded by Clanton, will be especially featured, this marking its third public appearance. Its premiere presentation occurred during Music week, its second on the Memorial day program held in Birch park. On both occasions the new organization made a very favorable impression, so that it has since had many requests for further appearances.

Composed of boys of school age, ranging from 10 to 20 years, the Junior band's present personnel includes boys from Huntington Beach, Orange, Fullerton, Anaheim and other neighboring towns, as well as many from Santa Ana.

The main purpose of this new organization is to provide an opportunity for promising young musicians to receive proper training in ensemble work. Boys now members of the Junior band will later be transferred to Santa Ana Municipal band as they advance in proficiency and musicianship, so eventually the membership of the Municipal band will be 100 per cent Orange county men.

Though the present repertoire of the Junior band is limited, it plays ambitious selections for such an organization, such as the popular selection from Bizet's "Carmen," to be featured on the conservatory program Tuesday night.

Additional novelties will include an effective ensemble of 50 violins, directed by Elwood Bear, head of the violin department of the conservatory.

Another ensemble of 20 advanced violin pupils will present the famous Bach "Concerto in D Minor." The local hearing of this impressive number marks the second time it has been given on the Pacific coast. It was first offered two months ago by students from San Francisco Conservatory of Music, under Ernest Bloch, celebrated composer, also director of the northern conservatory.

The Bach concerto will be presented Tuesday evening by the violin ensemble from the local school in most striking manner, without a director and with participants seated in a circle. This method directly follows a recent innovation in musical circles, originated several years ago in Russia. It resulted in formation in New York last year of the American Symphonic ensemble, a symphonic group presenting concerts without a director. This past year several similar organizations have been founded in America.

C. WINTHROP BOWEN DEATH ACCIDENTAL

FULLERTON, June 1.—That the death of C. Winthrop Bowen, prominent Placentia rancher, who died in the Fullerton hospital Thursday, was accidental, due to injuries received when run over by a tractor and disc, was the verdict rendered by a coroner's jury at the inquest over the body of Bowen late yesterday. The inquest was presided over by C. D. Brown, county coroner.

The funeral of the deceased will be held Tuesday morning from the McAulay and Suters funeral parlors at 10 o'clock, with the Rev. C. E. Maltas, rector of the Fullerton Episcopal church, in charge. Interment will be in Loma Vista cemetery.

CAPISTRANO GROUP TO HEAR ENGINEER

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, June 1.—San Juan Capistrano business men will meet at Hunter's cafe June 5, when the chamber of commerce of this city holds its regular monthly meeting. At the session, Paul Bailey, chief engineer of the county flood control district, will discuss the bond election of $16,500,000. Bailey will talk at San Clemente June 12 on the same subject at the monthly session of the Spanish village's chamber.

J. S. Malcom, president of the San Juan Capistrano chamber, says the next meet will be June 19, after which it is planned to adjourn until fall.

OBITUARY

Last rites held for A. F. Mills, a pioneer of Garden Grove. Funeral rites were held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock in the Smith and Tutill funeral parlors in Santa Ana. Mr. Mills, who had been failing for about two years, passed away at his home in Garden Grove Sunday following an illness of only a few days duration. The services were conducted by the Rev. O. W. Reinold of Santa Ana, Dr. F. D. Ashleigh of Montebello, close friends of the family, and Dr. J. M. Ochietree, pastor of the Methodist church of Garden Grove. The music was furnished by a quartet consisting of Mr. Bragg, Wallace Bragg, Mr. German and Mr. Moody, accompanied by Mrs. German. Those acting as pall bearers were J. O. Arkley, W. E. Hennion, Fred Mallet, John Sandman, John Mitchell and W. B. Merchant. Interment took place in Fairhaven cemetery.

The many beautiful floral offerings bore silent testimony of the esteem in which the deceased was held in this community.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ura B. Mills, three children, Raymond, Ruth and Floyd, a brother, George Mills of Garden Grove, and two sisters, Mrs. Julia McGrindle of Long Beach and Mrs. Jane Young of La Moore, California.

Obituary
Andrew Frank Mills was born at Princeton, Colusa county, California, August 18, 1865.

In 1873 the family came to Orange county, where the father, Andrew Mills, purchased a tract of land, on a part of which the Mills' home now stands, and where Frank and his younger brother and sisters grew to manhood and womanhood.

Here he met Miss Ura B. Conkle and on August 2, 1899 they were united in marriage. To this union were born two sons and one daughter, all of whom are here to mourn the loss of a beloved father, and to be a stay and comfort to their bereaved mother.

He was converted in 1906 and with his wife united with the Methodist Episcopal church of Garden Grove, of which he was a member at the time of his death. He was a quiet, unassuming man, of kindly loving heart, a devoted husband, and father. His faithfulness to God and his fine principles in all affairs of life, and loyalty to his associates, made him many friends. He was greatly beloved and will be badly missed by those who knew him, for to know him was indeed to love him.

For the last three years Frederick has been the Orange county representative of the Kellogg Sales company. He has taken a residence at 405 South Ross street and stated today that he will continue to manage the store under the policy established by Gerrard.

D. OF U. V. WILL JOIN IN PLANS FOR FLAG DAY

Tuesday was a busy day for Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil war, for in addition to their stated business meeting in the afternoon in Knights of Pythias hall, they joined with the Sons of Union Veterans in a covered dish dinner and program in the evening hours.

Mrs. Maud Sutton presided over the afternoon meeting at which 15 of the officers were present in addition to an excellent attendance of members. Reports given were of 74 calls, 23 bouquets, four bouquets to comrades of Sedgewick Post, G. A. R., and a birthday bouquet to Comrade M. H. Hunderford. Other reports given held him of the recent department convention in Oakland where it was disclosed that the department had placed 300 flags during the year and distributed 3050 Christmas baskets.

Mrs. Nellie Parker who was elected as second council at this convention, was also named as delegate to the national convention to be held in Portland in September. Mrs. Sarah Brown was the second delegate chosen for this occasion.

Plans were made for the annual Flag day exercises in Birch park on June 14, and for the covered dish dinner to be held at noon in American Legion hall, with all patriotic organizations of the city to join in the affair.

Announcement was made of the Southern California Federation convention to be held in Orange June 26. Next year's department convention will be held in Riverside.

The evening meeting was an enjoyable one from the beginning of the covered dish dinner to the final number on the program. Mrs. Maud Sutton presided over the entertainment features which opened with a sketch, "Safety First," in which roles were taken by Walter Sutton, Miss Bertha Belt and Charles Graham. Mrs. Charles Graham sang several songs including "Sweetest Story Ever Told," with Mrs. Josephine Barrar as accompanist. Charles Havens gave a reading and old-time musical selections were played by Mr. Atkins and his son.

The chief feature of the program was the talk on Washington, D. C., by W. M. Clayton, who illustrated his interesting lecture with slides for which he had taken all the pictures.

At the time of Healy's arrest, Deputy Sheriff Sam Snodgrass was burned about the face with tear gas from a pistol alleged to have been fired by the defendant. Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman appeared for the people.

JOB DAUGHTERS ENJOY PROGRAM OF ACTIVITIES

The Masonic fraternity and Eastern Star of Garden Grove were hosts to the Santa Ana order of Job's Daughters on Tuesday evening when the Daughters conferred the degrees, upon a class of six, of whom five were Garden Grove girls. A goodly number of fathers and mothers of the Bethel accompanied the Daughters.

The principal speakers were Mrs. Day, worth matron of Garden Grove chapter, O. E. S., Mrs. Sadie Cherosky, deputy grand guardian of Long Beach, and Mrs. H. Clay Kellogg, Bethel guardian of Santa Ana. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

The Bethel held a very enjoyable dance at the American Legion hall in Orange on the evening of May 29, which proved a success socially and financially. The Yellow Jackets orchestra furnished the music led by Dolly Mary Fowler, a member of the Bethel.

BRIDGE DETOURS ARE ELIMINATED

All detours around bridge construction on the Mecca to Blythe Intersect, 31 miles, have been removed, according to the Touring Department of the National Automobile club, but there is a detour in evidence at a point 18 miles east of Desert Center. There is now 25 miles of pavement leading into Blythe. Immediately east of the Colorado river, in Arizona, 10 miles of new highway is now completed and a crew with good equipment is now working on the last stretch of rough road between the eastern end of the new section and Quartzite, Arizona.

CONGRATULATIONS, GIRLS!

First success of American women tennis players in Europe this season was gained at the expense of Holland when Helen Wills and her partner, Edith Cross, defeated the Dutch players, Kees Bouman and Rollins Quocquerie, at the Hague. This shows the Americans being congratulated on their victory. Left to right, behind net, are Miss Bouman and Miss Quocquerie; on forward side of net, Miss Cross and Miss Wills.

UHLE, LAZZERI, ONLY 'DEAD' ARM PLAYERS TO PROVE THEY HAVE RECOVERED EFFICIENCY

CLEVELAND, June 1.—The recent announcement that Lee Meadows, the bespectacled veteran of the Pittsburgh pitching staff, had been sent out to the minors recalled that he is only one of a number of stars of former years whose future in baseball was being questioned during the winter months. In the same dubious category were "Goose" Goslin of Washington, George Uhle of Detroit, and Tony Lazzeri, Wilsey Moore and Herb Pennock of the Yankees.

NEVILLE FACES UNKNOWN BOY FOR GOLF TITLE

DEL MONTE, Calif., June 1.—Jack Neville, 36-year-old veteran golfer of Monterey, and Francis C. Stevens, a youngish unknown from Los Angeles, met on the Pebble Beach course today for the California amateur golf championship. Neville and Stevens, in two of the biggest upsets in recent California golfing history, eliminated Johnny McHugh, of San Francisco, and Pay Coleman, of Los Angeles, in the semi-final rounds. It was a sweet victory for Neville, who now is in line for his fifth state championship. Six years ago a gangling youngster removed him from his golfing throne in state play—the youngster was McHugh.

Hagen Wins From Archie Compston

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., June 1.—Walter Hagen, American professional golfer, defeated Archie Compston of Great Britain, one up in their 36 hole match here today. They had been all square at the half way point. Compston yesterday defeated Hagen, 8 up and 7 to play.

STARS NOW LEAD COUNTY RACE Colored Twirler Wounds Teammate

NEGRO PLAYERS FACE DISASTER IN BIG SERIES

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—With his star pitcher in jail for shooting his first baseman who is in the hospital, Manager Harry Claiborne of the Memphis Red Sox, runners-up in the National Colored league, today faced the prospects of fresh disaster.

The Red Sox, crippled and mad, must face again today the mighty St. Louis Stars whose bats started all the trouble.

For Pitcher Robert Poindexter couldn't find the holes in the St. Louisians' bath in Thursday's game. Through six disastrous innings they hit him all over the lot. The Stars won, 14 to 3.

As Poindexter sat brooding over it in the lobby of a hotel here yesterday, First Baseman Jake Haskell came alone.

"Cheer up big boy," he advised, "today is ladies' day. You'll go better with all the girls out there."

"Boy," replied Poindexter seriously, "git away from me. I've had enough to shoot."

Haskell was slow. Poindexter produced a revolver and shot him in the foot.

Poindexter was taken to jail and Haskell to a hospital. Haskell will probably get back into baseball in time to see the "world series" but indications are that Poindexter may not get out of jail that soon.

Meanwhile, with Manager Kenyon himself in the box, and a substitute on first base, the Sox hit their first game of the double-header, with courage high. The Stars won, 19 to 6.

The second game was an epic battle. It was called in the eighth on account of rain, with the score 3 to 2.

Today the Red Sox must face the Star again. Their standing in the league is at stake.

"It sure is a tough break," Manager Kenyon told the United Press. "Haskell was good. And Poindexter was about the best pitcher we had. But I never did like his temperament."

Judging from the little service that Pennock and Moore have given in April and May, it may be assumed that their arms haven't come around as splendidly as it was predicted this spring. Pennock has pitched oftener than Moore, but that isn't saying he has pitched much.

Lazzeri has been playing regularly and if he is bothered in his arm it isn't noticeable. He has hit only to the extent of 300 this season, which may be regarded as below his usual gait, but it also may be noticed that few of the real hitters have been leading the league in the first few weeks.

There is assuring news to the Yankees in the belief that warm weather will restore to Pennock's arm.

Yanks Bench Regulars In Big Shakeup

NEW YORK, June 1.—Trailing the Athletics by eight games, the New York Yankees today faced drastic changes in their lineup.

Manager Miller Huggins announced that he expected to make the following changes in the world champions before they take the field against the Chicago White Sox today:

Bench Mark Koenig for Gene Robertson at third base; replace Lyn Lary at shortstop with Leo Durocher; use either Cedric Durst or Ben Paschal in left field in place of Bob Meusel.

"We look terrible," Huggins said. "Unless we show improvement every player on the club will be liable to lose his job and that includes Ruth and Gehrig and all the rest."

CARDS ON WAY TO THIRD IC4A CHAMPIONSHIP

BY WILLIAM J. DUNN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—Stanford University seemed headed for its third straight championship as the final events in the 53rd annual meeting of the Inter-collegiate A. A. A. began at Franklin field today.

Eighty athletes, representing 23 schools, survived yesterday's preliminary trials in 11 events, and nearly that many more were competing today in four other events in which trials were not held.

Stanford, defending the title it won in 1927 and 1928, led the list of men qualified for today's semi-final and final events with a total of 14 places.

Pennsylvania was next with ten and Southern California third with nine. Yale and New York university qualified eight places each.

BIG DOUGH IN MINORS
Elias Funk, a young outfielder, was sold recently to the Hollywood Pacific Coast league club by the New York Yankees. Favorable things that had been written about him from the spring training camp by the New York correspondents led the young man to believe that he was to be a permanent member of the champion club and he didn't like the notice that he was to go back to the minors.

He took with him to the coast a contract calling for $700 a month and he was told by Bill Lane, president of the Hollywood club, that his Yankee contract would be assumed by the Hollywood club. It was pointed out by Lane that $700 a month was about the top paid in that league.

Funk then knocked Lane off his chair with the announcement that he wouldn't play for such an insignificant sum. He said the Yankees had underpaid him and that he wanted a large increase to play in the bushes.

Lane then told him to go home and think it over and he suggested.

GOLD IN THEM BUSHES
George Alfred Putnam, part owner of the San Francisco Seals, is one of the best traders in baseball. He and the late Jack Dunn, owner of the Baltimore Orioles, were the worst pains in baseball to the major league magnates when they were marketing young players ready for the big time.

During the past winter the San Francisco magnate sold $115,000 worth of ball players and he didn't peddle all of the youngsters liked by the scouts.

The prices he got for the Ivory he peddled were $50,000 for Roy Johnson, $40,000 for Earl Averill, $50,000 for Hal Rhyme, $7500 for Joe Sprinz, $7500 for Dutch Reuther, $1500 for Oliver Mitchell, $1500 for "Buckshot" May, $1500 for Dick Moudy and $1000 for Andy Vargas.

And he thinks he was rimmed on the Averill deal. If he had known that Averill was to wow with the Cleveland Indians as he has vowed he thinks he could have persuaded the rich Mr. Bradley to put out $100,000 for the young outfielder.

that if he didn't play with the Hollywoods he "wouldn't play nowhere." Funk decided to play.

CLYDE'S BLOOD TELLS
Clyde Van Dusen, winner of the Kentucky Derby, justified the faith that breeders place in blood lines. It is a well-known fact that he is a son of the immortal Man o' War, but it may not be so well known that he has in him the blood of another Derby winner, Old Rosebud, holder of the record time for the classic.

His grandpa was Fair Play, one of the greatest sires of all times and on his mother's side he inherited the blood of Old Rosebud. His mother was Uncle's Lassie, a daughter of Uncle, whose sire was Star Shoot, the sire of Old Rosebud.

Van Dusen's maternal grandpa, Uncle, was a celebrated mud runner and so was his mother and the grandson showed the same ability to go in soft going in the running of the Derby. His old man, it has been recorded, could run in or on anything.

He Yikes Third Base
Joe likes third base. Enough to say that he wishes he had been playing it all his career.

It isn't that he believes third base easier to play than shortstop for he doesn't compare the two spots except in this way: "They're both hard!"

And there seems new life in him. With less territory to guard at his left, he is showing flashy form in going to his right and in slowly hit balls. And he has been fielding in a manner that has won praise around the American league circuit and caused the prediction to be made that the Indians won't need to worry about a third baseman for a few more years.

May Break Scott's Record
With the new life in the majors gained from the shift, there exists a reasonable possibility that Sewell will break the record of Everett Scott for play in consecutive games.

Scott, when he was taken out of the lineup on May 5, 1925, had played in 1307 consecutive games.

Sewell, when he started the 1929 season, had 938 to his credit.

He usually averages more than 150 a season, so it may be assumed, now that he is going great at third base, that he will be in there every day for the Indians in the next three seasons. And the season of 1931, if he is in there every day, should see a new champion for successive days of play.

BASEBALL'S NEW 'IRON MAN'

The baseball critics said Joe Sewell, Cleveland shortstop, was about through last summer. And the former Alabama collegian was slowing up. But this year, Sewell was shifted to third base and there he is playing some of the best ball of his career. At the beginning of the season he had played in 938 consecutive games. The record, held by Everett Scott, is 1307. Sewell may break it, for the shift to third base seems to have prolonged his baseball life.

By BOB MATHERNE
(NEA Service Sports Writer)

When a player has approached his tenth season in the major leagues, it may be assumed, with all fairness intended, that he is nearing the end of his career.

It may be noticed that there are comparatively few regular performers who have been in there day in and day out for more than 10 seasons.

The observation seems especially true of shortstops as a careful check reveals that only Walter Gerber of the Red Sox, Dave Bancroft of the Robins and "Rabbit" Maranville of the Braves are campaigners of more than a decade. And it isn't a dirty crack to say that they're about through.

Began To Slip
It was whispered during the 1928 campaign that little Joe Sewell, who was in his ninth campaign for the Cleveland Indians, was slipping.

It was said that those short, stocky legs which had carried Sewell around through a streak of 938 successive games were slowing up, that many base hits were being made around Sewell which a few years back he might have fielded for outs.

There was nothing wrong with his batting, mind you, but—well, a faster man at shortstop seemed necessary.

It seemed, according to the gab, that Sewell was nearing the end—but that was in 1928 and before the little Alabama hammer was shifted from shortstop to third base in the rebuilding process of the Indians under the new millionaire owners.

Joe likes third base. Enough to say that he wishes he had been playing it all his career.

It isn't that he believes third base easier to play than shortstop for he doesn't compare the two spots except in this way: "They're both hard!"

And there seems new life in him. With less territory to guard at his left, he is showing flashy form in going to his right and in slowly hit balls. Dempsey On Way Back To Los Angeles

HOLLYWOOD, June 1.—Discrediting rumors of a rift, Estelle Taylor, screen actress, today expected her husband, Jack Dempsey, to arrive here early next week.

Divorce reports cropped up when Dempsey was reported to have struck Joe Benjamin, former lightweight boxer, in a quarrel over a New York chorus girl.

Miss Taylor said she expected Dempsey would stop over a day in Salt Lake City to visit his mother.

GARR'S HOMER GIVES GROVERS WIN AT COLONY

Those slumping Anaheim Colonists, who were good enough to give the Santa Ana Stars their only defeat of the season only two weeks ago, suffered their second straight Orange County league defeat last night when they were outplayed, 3 to 2, in a pitcher's battle with Garden Grove. The game was played at Anaheim.

"Lefty" Garr, rangy southpaw first baseman, knocked the Chilipeppers into victory and the Colonists into second place in the standings when he connected for a home run with Bryan on base in the first of the seventh. This broke a 1 to 1 tie that had existed since the third inning when Anaheim scored a run to match one made by Garden Grove in the second.

Anaheim got one of those seventh inning counters back in its half on singles by Al Bushman and Pomeroy and a fielder's choice but they could do nothing further with Morrill, who yielded only six bingles during the evening, three of them by Al Bushman, the Colonists' sinner.

CITY LEAGUERS BEGIN RACE ON MONDAY, JUNE 3

City league competition, always one of the most popular parts of night baseball, will begin in Santa Ana the evening of Monday, June 3 and will continue through eleven consecutive weeks according to a decision reached by the Commission of the Santa Ana Night Baseball association today.

The defending champions, the Santa Ana Ice company, will have the honor of opening the season. They are scheduled to play the Barr Lumber company on the first night.

Games will be played every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, sandwiched in between Orange County league and other contests booked for the Santa Ana Stars. This will guarantee fans from three to five exhibitions here each week.

The City league season will be a split one and the winner of the first half will play the champion of the second half for the title in a two-out-of-three post-season series. If the same club wins both halves, the team that has the next highest percentage for the entire season will have the right to participate in the championship series.

In addition these teams will be represented in a majority of the other four events—the pole vault, the high jump and the mile and two mile runs.

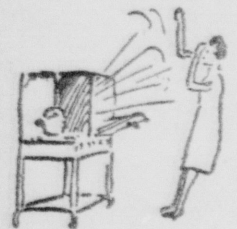

Stanford remained the favorite as the teams prepared for the final test and sentiment was even more strongly in favor of the Cardinal squad in the face of its excellent showing yesterday.

Harlow Rothert and Eric Krenz, weight stars of the Western champions, were expected to prove the deciding factors in favor of Stanford. Rothert, who twice broke the intercollegiate record for the shot put yesterday, seemed sure to win that event and Krenz appeared certain to place within the points.

In the discus, Krenz, who made the best mark yesterday, looked safe in first place with Rothert expected to finish close behind.

The Cardinals would be a good track team without this pair, but with them they look unbeatable and critics agreed that they must be displaced by other weight men today if the title was to return to the east.

'BABY ELKS' PLAY AT SAN CLEMENTE

SAN CLEMENTE, June 1.—Junior Dons of San Clemente, this city's American Legion baseball club comprised of youths from the Spanish Village, San Juan Capistrano and other nearby communities will clash with the "Baby Elks," Santa Ana Legionnaires' team here tomorrow afternoon. It will be the first scheduled game of the Legion junior series in this section.

Davis Cup Team Will Go Abroad Next Week, Plan

DETROIT, June 1.—The United States Davis cup players began making preparations today to sail for Europe next week for a campaign on foreign courts prior to meeting the European zone winner at Auteuil July 19, 20 and 21.

By defeating Cuba in the doubles yesterday, the United States clinched victory in the American zone final. The United States won two singles matches Thursday and John Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison beat Ricardo Morales and Herman Uppmann in the doubles, 6-2, 6-1, 6-0.

Two singles matches were carded today but their outcome had no effect on the United States triumph.

George Lott, No. 3 American player, was expected to play in one of today's matches in an effort to get some much needed competition before sailing for Europe.

and Moore's arms all the cunning of 1927. Glad news, especially for the Yankees, who are likely to have to battle harder than ever before for the pennant this summer.

You hear Goslin's arm is better than ever now. Also, to the contrary, that he won't cut loose and that he is pursuing it along. It may be remembered that an arm that couldn't throw 10 feet didn't prevent his winning the batting championship of his league last summer. To be true, Goslin didn't hit much more than 280 during the first quarter, but there hasn't been any talk that a dead arm is counting him out.

And that leaves Uhle. Nothing need be said about the ex-Cleveland right-hander except the suggestion that a look at the pitching averages be taken. New scenery and the clever handling of "Bucky" Harris seems to have regained for him all the cunning that was his in his greatest years. His first nine games were victories.

PRINTERS WIN TWILIGHT TILT FROM BUGLERS

Coming from behind in the sixth inning and putting on a wild rally that gave every man on the team an opportunity to bat, the Dennis Printers knocked off the American Legion Bugle and Drum corps, 6 to 1, in yesterday's Santa Ana Twilight league game in the Bowl.

The Printers got the jump on the World War veterans and had a 2 to 0 lead until the fourth when the Buglers made all their runs and five of their seven hits, giving them the advantage at 4 to 2. This was all erased, however, when the Printers came along with four of their own in the sixth.

Mack and Trusty, rival hurlers were effective except in their one bad inning.

This game completed the fourth round in the Twilight series, a round that saw all but the Auto Club of Orange County defeated at least once.

PRAISE FOR ALEXANDER

George Moriarty, American league umpire, who managed Detroit last season, says Dale Alexander, rookie Detroit first baseman, is one of the best natural hitters he ever has seen.

TILDEN LOSES BUT HELEN WILLS WINS

ROLAND GARROS STADIUM, AUTEUIL, France, June 1.—René La Coste of France, defeated William T. Tilden today in the semi-final round of the men's singles of the French hard court tennis championships, 6-1, 6-0, 5-7, 6-3.

The defeat was the most overwhelming the American No. 1 ranking player has sustained in many years of international tennis. "Big Bill," who suffered from a cramp in his weak knee during yesterday's quarter-final match with Baron De Morpurgo, was completely outclassed in the first two sets.

The French star played under the handicap of a severe cold and sore throat, which had caused him to seek to withdraw from the tournament yesterday.

Helen Wills, recognized as the women's world tennis champion, entered the finals of the women's championships today, defeating Eileen Bennett of England, 6-2, 7-5.

DETROIT PURCHASES BEAVER SHORTSTOP

DETROIT, Mich., June 1.—Although the Detroit Tigers have purchased George Wuestling from the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league, the Bengal management today denied his purchase will mean the disposal of Nolan Richardson or Frank Signafo, utility men.

Wuestling is a good shortstop, but poor hitter, while Helmut Schulte, the recruit now playing shortstop for the Tigers, hits well but makes many fielding errors.

Carbon-forming oils got an awful blow when "MODEL A" succeeded "MODEL T"!

modern motors have no room for hard carbon!

Crowds jammed big auditoriums last year to see the new Fords. Their enthusiasm was justified. This really fine small car marked an epoch-making change

IN the excitement of new models and new body-lines on so many different cars these last few seasons we've almost overlooked the greatest change of all—a change in motor design.

No longer are motors slow and inefficient, with big roomy spaces for carbon to gather. Pistons now reach almost to the cylinder head—within 1/32 of an inch in some motors.

Increased efficiency is the order of the day. It accounts for the greater power, economy, speed of the new cars. The new Fords you now see by hundreds get their power from such an improved motor.

Yet there are people who wish you'd never even heard of this change in motors.

They are the refiners of motor oils that form quantities of hard, gritty carbon. Such oils were bad enough in old-style roomy engines. They are ruinous in the newer cars!

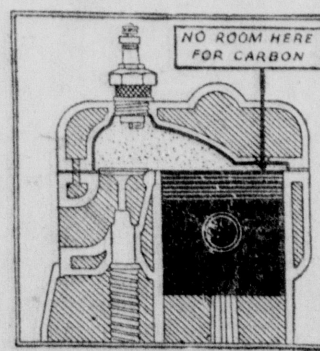

Hard carbon causes knocking, engine strain. Flakes chip off and grind through tight pistons and bearings. Particles get under valves, making them leak power, warp, burn quickly.

There is one motor oil, however, that lubrication engineers pronounce ideal for present day lubrication. It actually forms only 1/3 to 1/5 as much carbon as even the costliest oils sold! The little it does form is just a soft soot carried away easily by the exhaust.

It is Shell Motor Oil. The new high-vacuum process by which it is made gives it other important qualities, too. It withstands violent temperature changes which would break down old-style oils. It holds its body—not only when it is cold but under the intense heat inside a high-compression motor.

Once you begin using Shell Motor Oil you'll tolerate no other kind.

Beneath the hood of the new Ford is a sturdy modern motor. It will give you wonderful service, sustained high speed, long life—but remember that there is no room in it for the handful of hard carbon which old-style oils would soon deposit

Even the most expensive oils form more carbon. A sample of this oil, when burned, left more than three times as much as Shell Motor Oil

SHELL MOTOR OIL

Shell 400, the "dry" gas, is made "dry" to protect your oil from the crankcase dilution caused by ordinary "wet" gasolines. Even Shell Motor Oil can be ruined by thinning with "wet" gasoline

SEVEN WISE MEN AND WHAT THEY SAID

E. H. Harriman: "There are two factors which work against prosperity; one is idle men and the other is idle capital. Put them BOTH to work."

Jay Gould: "$100 invested IN THE RIGHT PLACE will earn as much as a man steadily employed."

George Westinghouse: "Five thousand Americans are worth one million dollars each because THEY INVESTED IN NEW THINGS."

J. Pierpont Morgan: "The foundation of wealth is the first $100 WELL INVESTED."

Charles M. Schwab: "All our self-made men began as small investors."

Chauncey M. Depew: "Buy when NEW THINGS ARE FIRST OFFERED."

John D. Rockefeller: "Don't delay! GET IN WHILE YOU CAN."

These statements represent the advice of seven of the most successful men in this country. Each one of them tells you to INVEST. They all say for you to put your idle dollars to WORK. They urge you to invest IN THE RIGHT PLACE.

The Orange County Development Co. is operating in an ideal section—in the El Toro district—IN THE RIGHT PLACE. The Company is operating on a tried and proven plan—a plan that is the RIGHT THING to make money. The Company has no competition and all its profit possibilities are before it. In that respect it is a NEW THING.

You should investigate this company at once.
